

Otago Harbour Resource Survey

Client: Southern Clams

Ryder Consulting has undertaken quantitative biomass surveys of the New Zealand littleneck clam resource and habitat surveys in Otago Harbour and at other sites in Otago. These assessments required large scale quantitative surveys of sand beds to provide highly accurate estimates of cockle biomass to assess the ecological effects of existing and proposed commercial harvesting.